TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many
A Sufferer in Norway

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen, worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Norway woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. A. L. Sanborn, Beal street, says: "I am perfectly satisfied Doan's Kidney Pills are a dependable medicine to relieve ailments resulting from disordered kidneys. I used them a few years ago and gave them a thorough trial. Since then I have had no return of kidney complaint and on that account I place a great deal of confidence in Doan's."

GUARDING AGAINST INFLUENZA

The rapid extension around the world of the so-called Spanish Influenza, and the rather high mortality rates which have followed its path in many places, has led the State Department of Health to issue a two-page leaflet on "Guarding Against Influenza."

This leaflet teaches that influenza, or grip as we often call it, is one of those diseases in which the infective is given off in the secretions from the nose, throat and air passages of those who are sick and that the infection is transmitted to other persons by the droplets sprayed in the air in coughing and sneezing, by things used in common, such as cups, spoons, forks, and towels. In schools the disease may be spread rapidly by books, pencils, and drinking cups used in common.

The persons who are endangered by the infection are those who come in pretty close contact or association with infectious persons, or enter rooms, vehicles and other enclosed spaces infected by them. There is no danger of infection in the open air, save in very close contact with infectious persons.

Personal Safeguards
The advice given by the Department for avoiding the infection is to cut out unnecessary visits to public places and unnecessary travel. If you can do so instead of taking a street car, do not visit persons who show the symptoms of grip or of a cold if you can well avoid doing so and do not give a cordial reception to persons showing such symptoms who unnecessarily intrude their presence upon you. Be particularly careful not to use drinking cups used by others or towels or anything else used in common.

Rules for the Sick
The room should be well ventilated and slightly warmed in cold weather. It is safer for the sick one to take his bed early, to call his physician and not to leave his room to soon, for there is much danger of serious complications, such as bronchitis or pneumonia which frequently ends fatally.

Secretions from the nose and throat should be received on pieces of paper or pieces of cotton cloth and burned promptly. Save as carefully as possible clothing and other things about the patient from being soiled. There is danger not only from the fresh sputum and nasal secretions after drying, which infectious dust into the room when shaken or moved too vigorously. Aside from the danger of aerial transmission for only a few feet from the sick one and in the infectious room, the infection may easily be transmitted by the fingers. Careful washing of the hands should not be neglected after the attendant has contaminated them by contact with the infectious secretions from the patient or the things used by him.

General Measures
While a general quarantine seems impracticable, pupils with grip or colds, particularly when grip in severe form is present, should be excluded from the schools. The infection of influenza is so contagious, so no disinfectant, particularly no fumigation, is required, but there should be thorough cleansing and the disinfection by boiling of the things which have been contaminated and can thus be treated.

LIBERTY DAY
Saturday, October 12, is the four hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the discovery of America. President Wilson has proclaimed it Liberty Day and requests the citizens of every community in the United States—city, town, and country-side—to celebrate the day.

The President, in his proclamation, says: "Every day the great principles for which we are fighting take fresh hold upon our thought and purposes and make it clearer what the end must be and what we must do to achieve it."

"We must know more certainly than we ever knew before why free men brought the great Nation and Government we love into existence, because it grows clearer and clearer what supreme service it is to America's privilege to render to the world."

Big Barn Door Musings, Personal Sketches, etc.

Meredith Center, N. H. Sept. 1918. You can save white paper by cutting out the editorials. They never will be missed except by those who write them.

Have refilled the fire extinguisher. It takes one and one-half pounds of bicarbonate of soda (cooking soda) and four fluid ounces of sulfuric acid. Follow the directions on the extinguisher. It should be recharged every twelve months to be most effective.

Our extinguisher squirted one and one-half minutes in good shape and was charged a year ago at an expense of 25 cents. This year it cost 50 cents to get the ingredients.

A bushel of potatoes got of Will Bicknell of Norway yielded 21 bushels. Only two potatoes show signs of rotting. They were thoroughly dried in the field and are stored in the barn and should they show indications of decay, they will be dried. That is what I'm told. Mr. Bicknell called the spuds "American Beauty" and they came from Clinton, Maine, and for which I paid $1.75.

Later—Mr. Bicknell tells me he got at the rate of 29 bushels from a bushel planted. He also had the opportunity of telling his story last.

Only four months and fifteen days from the egg to producing eggs. Quick time that. Mrs. Lettie Smith tells of starting the incubator April 15th and the pullets commenced laying eggs August 30th. She has Rhode Island Reds.

Walter delights in dolling up the car; polishing it with vinegar and sweet cider so as to make it shine.

Women up this way talk more about cooking than they cook. You should have seen the cooking literature Mother brought home from the State Agricultural College. I hope she is not going to try out those recipes on me.

The name "Sanborn" exceeds that of "Smith" in the Laconia City Directory. There are 83 Sanborns and 73 Smiths—a lead of ten in favor of the Sanborn family. A similar lead is shown in the telephone directories. The town of Sanborn which joins Laconia on the west, was named for that family and the Sanborns were once as numerous as the McKeens and McAllisters of Stoneham, this state.

"You are Now in Laconia—the City-of-the-Lake. Welcome." This is a big roadside sign which startles me whenever I pass one. It must have been originated by Tom Hill, who invariably greets me with "Welcome to our City."

Laconia has three National Banks and I'm of the opinion they could easily get on with two. One at the Lakeport end and another at "the Bridge," or at least one bank could drop out without inconveniencing the public a particle. The total loans and discounts of the two banks at the big end of the city are only $465,000 while $6,000 less are carried by the Norway National Bank. They have deposits subject to check of $553,000, while Norway has more than half that sum. Norway's capital stock, surplus and undivided profits is $153,000.00 and Laconia's is $312,000.00.

Wonder how the stock dividends of the banks would compare?

Why not consolidate and have one big worth-while bank?

I took a package to the American Express in this city and paid 32 cents for the parcel post would have done for 12 cents. I was told not to go there. The obliging agent said his company was not attempting to compete with parcel post rates. Also that their business had increased from $5,500 to over $8,000 per annum in the last three years.

Opechee Park—it used to be the fair grounds and was enclosed by a fence—the city of Laconia now owns it and is used as a fair ground for the children for an occasional horse-trot and an annual Grange Fair and Exhibition.

Labor Day there was a horse trot and I attended. No admission was charged but I was soon approached by a young woman who exacted tribute in a lady-like way and got a half dollar. She gave as many big green tags as I liked and tied one on the auto and I looked as prosperous in that time as any on the grounds.

It wasn't the same kind of a trot as was seen on these grounds years ago, or maybe I lacked the interest for I used to take in such affairs. A horse-trot in a non-gambling, bone-dry State is a dismal affair anyhow. There was no score-card or ginger-pop on the grounds and the sun was magnificent in its radiance. The judges were with a roof over their heads and used a faintly tinkling tea bell in calling up horses. Once only did I get a whiff of alcohol in passing about in a crowd of nearly a thousand people.

Dr. H. C. Well was the only old stager recognized in the paddock and I imagined I saw the real thing or a resemblance of the Verrills, but was told that the man was —, who lived on Mile Hill.

Nate Johnson, George Mallard, Dyer Flander, Johnnie Fifeled, Tot Davis, Sewerdriver, Onawa, Silkstockings, Topsy, et al have been ferried across and their place here taken by those unknown to me. It was like attending Joe Russell's picnic in Buckfield with Stargazer gone. I drop the curtain and listen for the old familiar whoops and howls of a generation past when horseflesh and alcohol moved the world instead of gasoline.

Charles Vaughan hasn't removed, or washed the storm windows or any windows in his office this year. On cloudy days he uses electric light. He says it is much more convenient and cheaper. Neither has he an outside sign to guide a tramp printer or a delinquent subscriber to him. Happy man!

He also says $1.50 per year is too much for his paper; he'd make too much money and would soon be compelled to join the ranks of the idle rich and roam about the county in a high powered motor car and annoy his friends talking about his health!

Truland Brothers will soon move into the street. Their printing office is so filled with stuff that to move about is difficult. Five presses and four of them lost to sight; a power paper cutter buried in litter and a stove so crowded as to be useless.

I whittle shavings, watching them work "over each other" and talk of past days when we were boys. Forty-six years ago we worked together on the Laconia Democrat and Frank Truland would not permit me to smoke in the office. I remember how he threw my choice pipes into the stove. He was foreman of the shop and struggled manfully with the burdens and the glory of the passion.

Five of those who then worked together recently had their pictures taken. Photographer Wilson did it and we looked as handsome as we could. Frank Truland is the oldest and best dressed and wore a flower on the lapel of his coat. Charlie Vaughan was the best looking; even though he had worn the hair from off the top of his head by carrying Sabbath School books in his hat. John Fred Batchelder, Louie Truland and I filled in the gap and made the five old men, who were printer at "the Bridge" in 1872. I haven't seen the photograph as yet and maybe it has been suppressed.

The abundance of overhead signs on some of the streets in Laconia annoys me. They are unnecessary and make the city look bad. The cuckoo clock is a nuisance as are the nails in the ash trail leading into the metropolis. Walter picked up three of them and refused to take me in by the home of the feeble minded.

George Quimby says he never picks up nails on that road; it must be his tires are of solid rubber.

The Gale Memorial Flag Staff is so much in the street it can't be seen and this annoys me as do the loafers on the benches opposite the Public Library.

The New Court House looms up in the place where the old house was and has been there long enough to have been struck by lightning and grow old looking. The old Court House sits opposite and looks familiar even though it has been there 25 years.

It brings to mind that feeble, round-shouldered, shawl-wearing, cocked-nosed man, Jacob Boody, who once did newspaper work on the Dover Gazette, and his daughter Helen. They are no more to be seen in the Register of Deeds office. They have gone, but their work remains. Helen wrote poetry that yet survives and the faithfulness of nieces Boody in that office will live forever.

Rufus Lewis, George B. Lane and J. Frank Leighton followed. Then came Martin B. Plummer and his daughter Mabel, who married Amber Comer, and Herbert M. Thynge, the present efficient incumbent. This is the history of more than 50 years. Prior to them was Katharine Edgerley, which includes all the Register of Deeds since Belknap County was set off of Strafford County in 1840.

In the Clerk of Courts office I remember Samuel C. Clark, O. A. J. Vaughan, Martin B. Haynes, George B. Emerson, S. S. Jewett and E. P. Thompson. Before them was E. S. Lawrence and N. H. Baldwin, who owned the Laconia Democrat and I think, committed suicide by drowning.

Warren Lovell was Judge of Probate for many years. I never saw his funeral but not the man. Samuel W. Rollins of Meredith followed by W. B. Fellows of Tilton, John B. Morrill of Gilford and Frank B. Tilton, who now has the say in the settlement of estates and other matters.

I remember Daniel S. Dinsmore as Clerk of Probate because his writing was so poor and he was Cashier of the Laconia National Bank. True Thompson came in somewhere and he was an editor and news gatherer, as is Tom Hill, the present occupant. I doubt if this list is complete. It's all I can recall in the past half century.

WHAT CATARRH IS

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors only irritate and do little if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from any harmful drugs. It is helping thousands. Try it.

Having from two to four shingles in a strip, they can be laid much cheaper and are more durable besides making a much more ornamental roof, resembling tile. What is much more important, they are so slow burning as to be practically fireproof. A wood shingle roof is a firetrap and is not allowed in many localities governed by fire regulations. Now is the time to lay these shingles before cold weather. When they are gone, there will be no more at the present price.

Soldiers' Letters

These letters were written by Sergeant Lawrence C. Libby to his mother, Mrs. Clara (Parker) Libby who now lives in Freeport. Sergeant Libby was born at South Paris, son of the late Frank P. and Clara (Parker) Libby of South Paris and Norway and his school days were passed in these two villages. Previous to the time of the war he was a member of the Norway Militia. He was one of the first to enlist after the declaration of war and one of the first hundred thousand to go across. He has been twice promoted since his arrival in France and is now Sergeant.

July 13, 1918.
My Dear Mother: There have been four letters from you with money in them all numbered from one to four inclusive. Now it was just a fortunate piece of luck that I ever received all of them. I wrote you the time I received number one and asked you not to send any more money. If you did not receive it why I will ask you again not to send any more. I have enough to get along with and the loss of mail is too great to take the chances.

Have been in an interesting sector since June 1st. Of course you read how we saved Paris in the home papers and how we drove the Huns back and captured hundreds of prisoners every few days but you should see the French papers for praise of the 2nd Division (this Div.). They wanted to see us in Paris July 4th so a delegation was picked to represent the Div. in the parade that day. I was the lucky one to be drawn from the 9th Infantry Med. Dept. There was a division of about 100,000 men in the parade which of course got a hand. They wore their overseas caps but when we came along in our steel helmets the cry went up "The boys from the front!" and believe me we were sure given a reception, we were covered with flowers and every one wanted souvenirs. After the parade we were taken to a large shell factory to lunch where 6000 girls are employed along with 4000 men. It nearly knocked my eye out when I went in there and was met by all those swell girls, but I caught my breath in time to save myself. It was some time before me. For three hours we raised the roof, the sky was the limit and there was a hole in that. I had more fun in the short time than I ever had before. My French is almost minus but it didn't make any difference. After the dinner we were given passes good for anywhere in the city until six the next morning and it was few who got back at that time. All we had to do was tell them we were from the 2nd Division and every thing we wanted was ours. We got back on the firing line the next day and stayed there until a couple of days ago. We are at present in support of the second line and are getting cleaned up again. The Medical Dept. had plenty of work but kept things moving and there was no congestion, although our dressing stations were blown up several times. I never told you did I about the time the Boche raided us in the St. Mihiel Sector and cleaned out our dressing station. They got seven of our men. It was a pretty wild night to begin with. At four in the afternoon I was caught in the enemy's barrage and had to lay in a shell hole with shells dropping around me like rain, I sure thought I was a goner as both high explosive and gas shells were coming my way and it seemed as if every one had my name and address on it. After half an hour the barrage was lifted about one hundred yards and I made a run for the trench. I went back into that sector with litter bearers and worked until two in the morning getting out the gassed and wounded and all the time the shells were being shelled. In the mean time the Boche came over in the other sector and captured our Medical Department men, and they were the only men captured. Our losses were practically nothing from the fight while the Boche left over 200 dead on our trench and besides a great number of wounded and captured. A funny thing, we captured some more of the same German regiment on this front and they spoke about that fight. We learned lately that our men are working in salt mines in Germany.

I am sending you a few things given me by Germans wounded whom I dressed. I had a bunch of stuff, but it was too bulky to carry and besides much of it I could not send any way. The program I enclosed with the other things is the menu at the luncheon the 4th of July, the belt buckle is one that every Boche soldier wears. I haven't taken any helmets because of their size but if I can get hold of one of the new ones I am going to send it home. They have their helmets now with hands on them so at a distance if it isn't absolutely bright it looks as though they were holding their hands up. We treat the enemy wounded exactly the same as our own but they don't appreciate a thing done for them. At night the Red Cross send us hot coffee, chocolate and cigarettes for the wounded. We give it to the Germans and then they ask for more. We have to take their knives and revolvers away from them. They will use them when they get into an ambulance if we don't, you can bet. Imagine what a mess they are. I never want to see a German again after this war, they can't be classed as human beings.

Oh yes, I hear from Norwood quite often. I have another mother there. She started sending me things last Xmas and has been writing and sending papers ever since. There have been about twenty want to send me things but I never answer their letters as I don't have time to write.

Aug. 10.
My Dear Mother: Your letter of July 3rd is here, also one with clippings and a handkerchief.

I wrote you a week or more ago, we had just come out of a big battle at the time, since then we have moved to another front. It is not lively here just at present.

It has been nearly a year now since I came to France. I don't know how it seems to you but to me it seems as though I had been here all my life, also our way of living which seemed so unnatural at one time seems to be the only way, it won't be very hard for me to go back to the old way if the opportunity ever occurs though. Oh yes, I wear one service stripe and by the time this reaches you I will be in for my second one.

Save that picture of the bunch I sent you, there are not many left of that crowd. We have seen hot times since we struck the lines away back last winter. Yes, the outfit you mention have seen some fighting but nothing compared to what this outfit has been in. They get great write ups in the home papers, but there's a reason, this outfit is a Regular Army outfit composed of men from all over the world, therefore, there is little local interest in it. The outfit you spoke of are popular in the States, but the French people don't know them while we are known everywhere we go. The Premier of France visited us personally while we were in the trenches and this whole regiment is to receive the cord for bravery, the first American Regiment to receive it.

I want people to know that although we haven't any special reports with us to write us up that we are doing our bit just the same. We have been in every big fight Americans have been in, we have the credit of saving Paris and for forty days we not only held the Germans but pushed them back in the offensive started the morning of July 18th. We were the first over the top, we even went ahead of the tanks, so you see we have a little kick coming as to the publicity some outfit are receiving just because they happen to be a local corps.

We are no longer allowed to send packages home but it makes little difference, but a few of them ever reach there. It seems funny to read of people being interested in such souvenirs when they are in our way over here. I have seen some beautiful vases made from seventy-five shells. They are not allowed to use them for that purpose any more. As for German souvenirs we don't collect them any more, it is too much work carrying them around. During the big battle we went over six miles back of the enemy's front lines and there were everything they owned left just where it was being used. In their rush to escape they threw away every thing they could get off.

The weather here is beginning to seem like fall, it won't be long now before the nights will be getting cold. Love from Lawrence.

Letter dated Sept. 2, received from Private Frank L. Briggs, of 101st Regiment Engineers, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Briggs of Harrison.

Dear Folks: Omar left town yesterday so I am here all alone to-day with no one to talk to. Last night I went to prayer meeting at the Y. M. C. A. and there we sang a few hymns, present, so we had a good time. We sang "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder," and a good many other songs, that I knew, and those old songs made me think of the times when you and Charles used to get together and have a sing, and I got a new testament, the Bible Nellie sent me, is in my barrack bag and the Testament that Aunt May sent me, I left at the front in my coat pocket and I guess Bill will keep it till I get back. A few days ago I received a bag with my personal things in it that I left at the front. The Lieutenant sent it. The sweater two pair winter gloves and three pair winter stockings, so I am alright for winter weather.

I will try to give you some idea how I will be fixed for the winter, when I get back to my Company. Overseas cap, one uniform, two suits, winter under clothes, two pair hob-nailed shoes, one pair hip rubber boots, one heavy mackinaw, one pair leather gloves, one pair leather wool-lined gauntlet gloves, two or three pair heavy socks, two or three pair wristlets, two or three sweaters, two or three scarfs, one rain coat. This is all I think of at present and you can tell by reading this, that there is nothing to worry about on that score. The Engineers are fitted out the best of any branch of the service. At present I have blankets and you can bet I sleep warm. I am feeling fine, hope this finds you all the same, love to all, Lawrence.

The following letter was written by Joseph C. Flanders who is in the Headquarters Detachment, 301st Engineers, American E. F. in France, to his uncle, Charles P. McKee of North Waterford. Mr. Flanders was a former Norway boy.

Sept. 4, 1918.
Dear Uncle Charles: Just a few lines to let you know that I am in good health and getting along fine. I am in a small village here in France and have been here for quite awhile but we are in hopes of going to the front very soon. We had rather a long hard trip getting here but we feel lucky that we did get here safe and sound. The people here are very old fashioned, they wear big wooden shoes and instead of using horses they use burros or what we would call a pack ass. They are very small but their wagons are great big two wheel carts. The cows are all white and they have flocks of sheep and geese and they drive them all out to feed together. They don't raise much of anything except grapes and they make those into wine which they drink all the time, but it is rotten stuff. It tastes like old musty cider.

I suppose you folks are having lots of green stuff to eat about now. We never see any over here at all, but we are getting good food and plenty of it. We are billeted around in different places, I am sleeping in a tie up with six other boys and we have got it cleaned out so it makes a pretty fair place to sleep. We go to bed at nine-thirty and get up at six and have physical drill before breakfast, I think I have gained quite a lot since I landed here. How is aunt Liz and all the rest? Tell them that I should like to hear from them very much and tell Dad and Arthur that I am going to write to them just as soon as I can.

The Allies are smashing the Germans in great shape now and if they keep it up it won't take long to finish them. I don't know whether Kip is over here in France or not but I don't think he is. It has only rained here once in a month. They get very little rain here. There are no lakes or ponds at all and everything is all dried up. There is a small river near here where we go and wash our clothes and go in swimming but that is the only water around.

Well uncle Charles there is no more to write this time but will write again soon, give my love to aunt Liz and all of the family. Love to all, Joe.

The Peace Our Soldiers Want—The Peace Our War Mothers Want.

The Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper published by the soldiers of the American Expeditionary Forces in France says editorially about the enemy's peace offensive:

"Let the weak hearted who are dreaming of a compromise; let the pacifists who are talking a peace by agreement; let the sideliars who have had enough of war; let the secretly inclined pro-Germans who think this war should end with a decision—let them one and all know once and for all that for the American Expeditionary Force there is no such word as 'Peace' with the Hun unbeaten. The man who talks of peace to-day, except through victory, is a traitor."

The enemy peace offensive is likened to the action of German machine-gun crews and killed Americans until they were surrounded, then shouted "Kamerad."

The mothers of the American soldiers in France want the same peace their sons demand. All the courage of the ancient Spartan mother is in the hearts of the women of America.

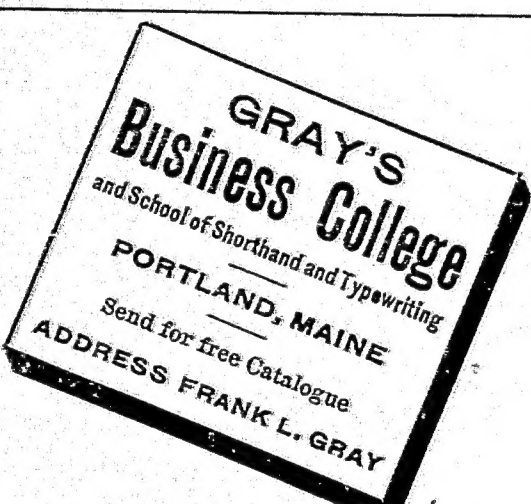

The object of the Fourth Liberty Loan is to bring that peace—a just peace, a righteous peace, an American peace.

WEST PARIS

Mrs. Margaret Libby of Haverhill, Mass., has been visiting her niece, Mrs. W. E. Cole.

Repairs have begun on the Free Baptist Church, new chimney, etc. The services of the Federation were held in the Methodist Church last Sunday and will continue there for the present if nothing else prevents.

Last Sunday evening there was a union temperance meeting held in the Universalist Church under the auspices of the W. M. T. U., which was very interesting. Rev. Markley of the Universalist Church gave a fine address on Citizenship with the apostle Paul as a first example. The president, Mrs. L. C. Bates led the meeting, assisted by Rev. H. H. Hathaway. A chorus from the high school and grammar school furnished the music and sang all patriotic songs, American and French National songs.

The remains of Mrs. Grace Dunham (Cheeseman) of Boston were brought here Monday. The funeral was held at the North Paris Baptist Church Wednesday. Rev. H. H. Hathaway and the choir from here went there to attend the services. Mrs. Cheeseman was the daughter of Fred Dunham of North Paris. She leaves a husband, who was sick with the same epidemic of which she died and two little boys.

The schools here were closed on Tuesday until further notice on account of the prevailing influenza. A lot here have colds, but not any serious cases as yet. W. M. Whitten has been having a serious time with an abscess. He went to Lewiston, Tuesday, and had it treated and returned feeling better.

Mrs. Carroll Bacon is very poorly. Mildred White is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White.

Y. M. C. A. WAR WORK IN FRANCE

The Y. M. C. A. is helping the women in France in recreational educational and relief work. Little home centers for American Army nurses in base hospitals have been established in co-operation with the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. A hut is built by the Red Cross on or near the hospital grounds. One end of it is taken by the Y. M. C. A., and one room belongs to the Y. M. C. A., and in this one room is inaugurated a bit of home life for the nurses at the battle front. It is the one spot where the nurses may leave the harassing duties of the hospital behind for a bit of recreation.

A mother of six children writes: "My baby was very sick and a friend of mine suggested trying Dr. True's Worm Elixir. Now I have six children and am never without Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, in my house." Mrs. B. N. Gile, West Newbury, Mass.

Signs of worms are: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. ## Girls' and Boys' Club

The local contest of the two Agricultural Clubs—the Girls' Canning and the Boys' Corn Clubs was held at Norway Grange Hall Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock. The Girls' Canning Club has twenty-five members under the leadership of Minnie Upton of Noble's Corner. Each girl exhibited ten jars of different products of her own canning. The prizes were: color, clearness, fullness of pack, outward appearance of jars, and labelling. The Board of Trade donated twenty-five dollars for prizes. Mr. A. Van Den Kerkhoven, the Emergency County Leader, was the judge, and prizes were awarded as follows: Doris Kilgore 1st, $5; Josephine Lord 2nd, $4; Mabel Perry 3rd, $3; Lucy Witt, 4th, $2.50; Eleanor Brown, 5th, $2; Hilda Russell, 6th, $1.50. Susie Bradbury, Clara H. Wood, Winona Young, Thelma Bradbury, Gladys Barker, and Edith Joslyn were each awarded a dollar. The exhibits were all excellent. The Local Leader, Minnie Upton, expects every member to send her exhibit to the County Contest which is to be held at Norway Grange Hall, October 12.

The Boys' Corn Club has seventeen members under the leadership of Clarence Buck. Each boy exhibited the season's yield and wrote a story of his experiences from the time of planting to the harvest. The prizes that counted included the yield, profit, and best story. Prof. George A. Yeaton was the judge and the following awards were made: Alva Richardson 1st, $5; Don A. Delano 2nd, $1.50; Philip Noble, 3rd, $1; Albert P. Knightly, 4th, .50. In one exhibit was one ear of corn that scored 99 points, the highest score reached in a long time. The Norway Grange donated the five dollars for the prizes. At noon a basket dinner was enjoyed, the members of the grange furnishing the hot coffee.

The regular session of the Grange was called to order at 1:45, with Worthy Master W. O. Perry in the chair. Officers present, Eva Jackson, overseer; Clarence Buck, steward; Louise Gammon, secretary and treasurer. The minutes of the last meeting were read, and the usual business transacted.

The Norway Grange will furnish dinner for the members of the clubs and their leaders exhibiting at the County Contest, on October 12th. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the Contest program. The stage was attractively decorated with stars and stripes, autumn leaves and red berries, and Liberty Loan advertisements. Captain Eva Richardson and her assistants, Eva Jackson, and Ruth Holgate presented the following program:

The Boy From Next Door

YOU used to see him swing gaily down the street, radiant with the vigor of his sturdy young manhood. One day he came home in khaki; then his father told you, with mingled pride and foreboding, that he had "gone across" with his regiment.

Yesterday his name was on the casualty list—"slightly wounded"—and your face grew grave as you thought of the sorrow and suspense of his father and mother.

From every city street, every village, every community, the boy next door has gone to war.

Think of these thousands of splendid young Americans, reared in comfort, peace, and security, now suddenly plunged into that roaring inferno of battle with the hardened hordes of a desperately determined foe.

What are you doing to help them?

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

George Skillings is having repairs made on the house formerly occupied by his father and will move his family there. Mr. Taylor is doing the carpenter work.

At the last meeting of Crooked River Grange a class of young people were initiated in the first and second degrees.

There was a short but fine program and a social. The service flag was presented by Florence Stuart, bearing several new stars for the brothers who lately entered the country's service.

Saturday evening Bishop Nelson of Albany, N. Y., gave an address on the Liberty Bond Loan under the auspices of the Harrison town committee. The famous singer, Alice Neilson Stoddard, rendered several selections much to the delight of the audience. Scarcely do we have such a treat as was afforded by the work of Bishop and Madam Nelson.

Joseph Pitts of Harrison, president. There was a good audience and $1,459 were subscribed on the Liberty Loan by the citizens of Bolster's Mills who reside in Harrison. Those in Otisfield waited to place theirs with the Otisfield Committee.

Sunday Bishop Nelson and Madam Stoddard were at Bell Hill Church where a large audience gathered from all parts of the town. A most enjoyable occasion, doubtless productive of much good.

Mrs. Elizabeth Scribner has been appointed chairman of the Otisfield Woman's Liberty Loan Committee and has chosen the following helpers, Mrs. Ruth Brett, Mrs. Anna Kemp, Mrs. Mary Kneeland and Edna Robinson. Otisfield will surely present no slackers. Those who cannot send men to the front can fight with their dollars. No other investment is better than a Liberty Bond these days. Let everyone in Otisfield "boom the bond."

We are sorry to learn that the prevailing epidemic has taken a foot-hold in Norway. It is a wise precaution to close the schools also to put a bar on public gatherings. It can do no harm to "Lock the stable before the horse is stolen" in any community. "Forewarned is forearmed." Let no one get in a panic, but take all precautions to prevent the spread of disease and keep ones health at the best. These are days of fearful things and cause one to ponder on the uncertainty of human life. "Work, pray and trust" should be our motto.

NORTH WATERFORD FAIR

MUDDLE

A division of opinion as to holding the "World's Fair" has been going on several days. Some contended that it should go on as usual and others that it should be postponed. The former claiming that there was no law to legally prevent it.

The Board of Health of the town, at a special meeting, passed a by-law, that no fair can be held without their written consent. The by-law has been approved by Justice Deasy, notices posted and published in the paper and the law has become legally operative. It is understood the Local Board of Health will issue no permit hence it is reasonable to suppose there will be no fair this year.

Cyrus L. Leach of Casco and Mansfield F. Holman of Olsfield have been drawn as traverse jurors for the October term of the Supreme Judicial Court for Cumberland County.

Dollars that Fight

By SENATOR HENRY CABOT LODGE

The war will be won by men and ships, by guns and airplanes. To raise armies and supply them, to build the navy and support it, and to furnish ships and transport, we must have money in large amounts. The expenditures of the Government for the ensuing year are estimated at $24,000,000,000, a sum which baffles the imagination to conceive. That vast amount must come one-third from taxes and two-thirds from loans. The success of the Fourth Loan, like those that preceded it is, therefore, absolutely necessary. We must work with the highest speed, as if the war was to end in six months. We must prepare in every direction, as if it was to last for years. Speed and preparation are both expensive.

Without the Loans we cannot have either

We are fighting to secure a just, righteous and lasting peace. For a complete peace we must have a complete victory. It must not be a peace of bargain or negotiation. No peace which satisfies Germany can ever satisfy us. No peace that leaves Germany in a position to renew the war against us will be worth having. It will be far from sufficient to gain all our objects on the Western front—Belgium, Alsace-Lorraine, Italia Irredenta. The President with wisdom and foresight and great force expressed his determination to redeem Russia. Russia must not be left in Germany's hands. That would mean another war. Poland must be free. Slav republics must be established to bar the way between Germany and the East. Serbia and Roumania must be redeemed. All these things are essential. Nothing will bring them but complete victory and a peace dictated by us and our allies. It is a conflict of ideas. It is the principle of evil arrayed against the principle of good. It is the battle of freedom and civilization against barbarism and tyranny. We must win and we shall win.

We cannot win without money, and therefore, these Loans are vital, and the country should rally in all its strength and subscribe and oversubscribe the Fourth Liberty Loan

Once More

We ask you to take time by the forelock and buy now. Read the short paragraph below; it was taken from one of the daily papers of this state, therefore we see nothing but soft toed shoes in the future, that is, for the period of the war. If you want good shoes, felt heel pads, box toes and felt innersoles, we say buy now from our present stock.

Washington, Sept. 20.

Box toed shoes, felt heel pads and felt innersoles are doomed for the period of the war. The war industries board announced to-day that the manufacture of felt used for these articles must be discontinued as soon as present supplies of raw material are exhausted and at once if its manufacture interferes with the fulfillment of government orders.

OUR SERVICE And What it Means to You

We Have a Joint Interest in This Community

And We Wish to Join With You in Every Way to Promote the Communities' Interests

In a sense, this community is like a farm—it pays according to the way in which it is treated.

The successful farmer cooperates with his farm.

Knowing that certain soil elements are necessary to healthy crop growth, he sees to it that these elements are maintained.

The same principle holds good in community development.

Our community is composed of two closely-related elements—town and country.

They are both essential to healthy community growth. Neglect or mistreatment of either of them by the other affects both—it injures the whole community. Both elements must be maintained.

A accomplishing this is simply a matter of sincere cooperation among all of us in this community.

Our idea of our own part to play for community good in a business way is—

To sell only such implements as have the quality to give high grade results in the field.

To consider good performance by our implements as a part of our obligation.

To sell every implement at a fair price.

To practice the square deal towards each and every customer.

On this basis we invite the co-operation of every farmer in this community.

McMillan Lecture

The Norway Opera House was the attractive place Friday evening where Dr. Donald B. McMillan the arctic explorer gave intensely interesting and instructive lectures on "March for New Lands." "Four Years in the Far North." Dr. McMillan has recently returned from a four years' exploration trip beyond the Arctic Circle where he went as leader of the Crocker Land Expedition. He was also one of Peary's lieutenants when the North Pole was reached in 1908-9.

Howard Smith in the opening minutes gave a short talk on the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign. Boy Scouts passed applications for the loan among the audience.

Hon. A. J. Stearns introduced the speaker of the evening. The lecturer was an intimate college chum of Frank Stearns, a cousin of A. J. Stearns. He is also a friend of John W. Wood of the Norway Shoe Co., who induced him to come to Norway.

The lecture was illustrated with slides and motion pictures showed in an excellent way the manner of life, travel and scenery in the far north. The personal story of the explorer who on the trip for four years, without communication from the outside world.

An especially interesting feature was the pictures and stories of the life of the Eskimos, the Eskimo dogs and the many trips across miles of ice and water. The scenes were beautiful and gave one a clearer understanding of the life within the arctic circle both in summer and in winter.

Apples may be kept in the storage room in the basement of the dwelling, in outdoor storage cellars, and in banks or pits. ## SOUTH PARIS

Paris High Held Hebron Second Paris High School opened their football season with Hebron second at that place Saturday afternoon, which resulted in a 7 to 7 tie contest.

Paris put on a strong well developed team for so early in the season and the ball was in Paris territory during the greater part of the time with fine opportunities for touch-downs, they failed to break through the resistance except once. Hebron scored during the second period with a long end run by Sprague and Soule coupled with a forward pass between Sprague and Lane. The score:

Liberty Loan Demonstration

The Fourth Liberty Loan rally in Main Square Friday evening was well carried out and a large crowd gathered to hear the speaking. The exercises were held around an illuminated log cabin erected on the grass plot in the Square. A speaker's stand appropriately decorated was near at hand and convenient to the Paris Trust Co., where the bonds were sold.

Alton C. Wheeler presided and introduced Rev. C. G. Miller who in a ringing speech urged everybody to invest quickly and send the town ahead of its allotment. Corp. Frank Street of Boston, a young man who enlisted in a Canadian regiment early in the war and fought nearly three years on the French front was the head liner. He held the large crowd for a long time with a story of personal experiences from England to the firing line. The early days when German gas was claimed as unexpected victims by the thousands; the days when ammunition and gas were inadequate to hold the brutal hordes on the Western front was well pictured. In contrast was the condition to-day with American resources playing a leading role, because the people are buying bonds freely to carry on this victorious war.

The Lewiston Brigade Band with Mr. Carroll as soloist furnished several numbers on the program and rendered a concert during the bond selling campaign. Many assisted in making applications. The Womans' Committee were stationed in the Cabin which was a bureau of information. The Boy Scouts were active everywhere and their work in the past days has received favorable comment.

The third grade in the Paris schools, taught by Annie Brooks received the flag in the contest for securing the largest number to attend the recent lecture on prohibition by Rev. Louis Albert Banks of Boston.

William J. Wheeler underwent an operation for hernia at his home here last Friday afternoon, his condition making the operation necessary. Mr. Wheeler is comfortable, and there is reason to expect a good recovery. Howard G. Wheeler of Manchester, N. T., and Robert W. Wheeler, who is in the service and stationed at Fort McKinley, were summoned and arrived soon after the operation. Mrs. Wheeler's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Cole of Canton, Mass., and son, Howard, also came at once.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Anderson are in Wallaston, Mass., because of the illness of their son, Harold C. Anderson, and his daughter, Helen. The disease developed into double pneumonia. He has passed the crisis and is recovering. The little girl had a light attack, and is improving though confined to her bed.

Harold Edmundo who has been ill with pneumonia is improving. His son, Albert, aged 10, who broke his leg as the result of a fall two weeks ago is comfortable.

The Red Cross has changed their work rooms from the dining-room of Paris Grange to the assembly-room in the first station on Pine Street.

KEZAR FALLS

Funeral services for Leora Collopy were held at her home Friday afternoon, Sept. 27th. Rev. William Cotton of Holis officiating. Miss Collopy died of pneumonia, the result of a protracted cold and gripe.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collopy and leaves beside her parents, one sister, and many other relatives and friends to mourn her absence. Two soldiers boys, Charles Ally and Harold Collopy from Camp Devens, came to Kezar Falls to attend the funeral. Interment at Cornish Cemetery.

Agnes Sawyer has been engaged to teach the primary school on the Parsons field side of the river.

George Day and Charles Perry went to Camp Devens Thursday last week, to see their boys, Roy Day and Newman Perry, who were sick with the prevailing epidemic. The fathers were a good tonic for their boys and they speak very appreciatively of the kindness received from the different officials.

Fred Allard, also at Camp Devens reported sick, is also recovering.

Alton Benton has been very sick with gripe but is now improving.

Dr. M. Bidlon who has been called upon on day and night to minister to the sick has himself succumbed to the disease. His wife also has the gripe but in a mild form.

Fred Harriman is recovering slowly from an attack of gripe. Mrs. Harriman was sent for and as soon as possible they will look for a rent and resume housekeeping.

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMLING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HEM, R. No. 6, Box 88, Lowell, Mich.

SAVE SUGAR, CHILDREN!

A penny stick of candy or a lollipop in America is a bun in Belgium and France. Those are the countries where there are hungry children who need them worse than you need candy. And if every little American, in every state in the Union would not spend that daily penny for candy any day, buns with sugar on them, could be given to the hungry children over across the sea, and they would become fat, and healthy and happy like yourself.

Now that sounds like magic, and magic it is—white magic, of the very finest kind. As magic is quite difficult to understand, you will have to read every word of what follows in order to see how the little trick is done.

You see, the story of how an American lollipop can turn into a Belgium bun—just like that—is very much like the story that ends with "dog won't bite pig, pig won't jump over stile, and I can't get home to-night!"

Let's pretend that we have come to the nice part of the end, where the pig finally jumps over the stile and the old lady gets home, all because the cat, way off yonder, began to eat the rat. In this story it's the little Americans, who began to save on lollipops, and the bun that finally lands safe in the hands of the boys and girls over there. Here's the way it goes:

If American children say no to that lollipop that they used to eat every day, the man who makes the lollipop out of sugar will tell the man who sells the sugar that he doesn't need so much next time; the man who sells the sugar will tell the man who brings the sugar from other countries in ships, that he needn't bother to load up so much sugar next trip; the man who brings the sugar from foreign countries will soon find that he doesn't need so many ships, and then he'll say to Uncle Sam, "Here's a ship you do need, and I don't need."

And Uncle Sam will take that ship, and fill with wheat, and perhaps some sugar, and one thing and another, and send it over to Europe with war ships, and destroyers, to protect it, and the first thing you know sugar coated with buns, made out of American wheat, will be disappearing into the mouths of little French and Belgian refugees.

All because you little Americans said "None to-day" to the lollipops and candy, and started white magic that reached across the Atlantic ocean!

WOMEN IN WAR WORK

Secretary McAdoo has designated Oct. 5 as Women in War Work Day.

"Millions of women in the United States are engaged in war work. Seven hundred thousand serve as active workers in the organization of the National Woman's Liberty Loan committee. Seventy thousand women are employed on the railroads. Hundreds of thousands of women are laboring in the munition factories. Other hundreds of thousands serve in clerical work directly related to the war. As many more are engaged in the Red Cross and other activities for the amelioration of war conditions.

The women of America are doing their share in the winning of the war, both by actual work and by the tremendous force of their moral influence. It is fitting that their service should be memorialized, and Saturday, October 5, has been designated for observation in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign as Women in War Work Day."
